Prof. Rakesh Kumar Seth

Chairperson, Governing body

From the Desk of Principal

Dear Student,

A warm welcome to you in our College. It came into existence in 1991 during the birth centenary year of Bharat Ratna Baba Saheb Dr. Bhim Rao Ramji Ambedkar. A constituent co-educational college of the University of Delhi, it is fully funded by GNCTD. Students particularly girls and those from weaker sections are motivated for higher study and to take up short-term skill based job oriented add-on courses and language courses and undertake research. The college is relatively young and has recently completed its 25th year of eventful existence.

Our College motto, 'Atto Deepo Bhava', meaning 'Be your own light' motivates us to always work hard with dedication and integrity to enlighten ourselves and contribute to the society's welfare while deriving strength from the teachings and mission of Baba Saheb.

The College provides ample opportunities to mingle together in academics, sports, Eco-Club, NSS, NCC, Gender Development, Cultural and other extra-curricular activities organized through different societies and clubs. Your participation in such activities helps you to inculcate the spirit of group work, mutual respect, discipline and social responsibility towards both college and community development and energises to march ahead. The college is known for its nature care and environment friendly initiatives promoted through its Rose & Herbal Gardens, Paper Recycling Unit and Solar Water Heater etc. The role of our students all through these years is admirable.

The college has marched ahead on all fronts despite many odds created by vested interests ever since I joined in 2007. The College library, access to E-resource, playground, canteen, auditorium and I.T. enabled Wi-Fi, fully CCTV surveillance and Computer Labs are second to none. You will feel happy that our students' creativity further facilitated by the staff and reflected in our administrative practices has been well appreciated by the University and college was awarded Vice-Chancellor's Commendation in 'Antardhwani' 2015. The college invites distinguished experts, conducts workshops and organizes industrial visits and village tours to update your knowledge and create awareness about the ground realities of life.

I am sure, you will get many opportunities to show-case your creative talents and skills besides gaining academic excellence. The teaching faculty, staff, Alumnis and the Governing Body are always striving for your all-round growth and development in your chosen fields. Please make the best use of the college life and fully participate in student centred activities. It will definitely play a significant role in shaping your career. Please do not forget that your potential to create an inclusive society can be realized only if you love your country and work hard with dedication, honesty and discipline. This is a daunting challenge as the world is getting competitive and employment opportunities are not expanding as required.

I look forward to seeing you in the campus and wish you all success and a great future ahead.

You may reach the Principal at: info@drbrambedkarcollege.ac.in or principal@drbrambedkarcollege.ac.in or contact me through my Sr. P.A., Sh. Ram Kumar.

B.A. (Hons.) Geography

Dr. Monica Ahlawat (Teacher-in-charge)

Geography is concerned with providing scientific description and interpretation about the variable character of earth surface. Geography is fundamentally a holistic discipline in that it studies things and events in their total context. Geographers study human habitat and man's interrelations with environment. Due to its interdisciplinary nature, the subject is gaining popularity especially when the world is in the grip of problems like climate change, environmental degradation and depletion, food insecurity, regional and socio-economic inequalities and socio-cultural transformations. The discipline's scope gives an advantage to the students providing diverse career options. The new techniques of data acquisition and analysis like Remote Sensing and Geographical Information System (GIS) have further widened up the career options. In addition to the class room teaching and spatial technologies practical knowledge, the Department of Geography also organizes a field trip to enrich the understanding of the subject.

Field Trip will be organized by the Department of Geography for the students of semester IV for the partial fulfillment of paper 10: Field Work and Research Methodology (Practical). The field trip is compulsory for all the students of Semester IV.

Student Activities: A programme titled Bhu-Chetna (Geo-awareness) is organized for conducting a number of inter-college competitions such as Geo-quiz, debate and essay writing etc. A running inter-college trophy Aryabhatta is awarded to the best debating team.

B.A. (Hons.) Economics

Dr. Sonia Aggarwal (Teacher-in-charge)

Economics has been and continues to be an extremely popular choice of course for students pursuing the bachelor degree. Economics is the study of how economic activities are organized by societies, governments, businesses, households, and individuals by allocating their scarce resources to meet unlimited needs in the perspective of sustainable human development. Economists are well known for advising the government on economic issues, formulating policies for the central bank and at fiscal and the welfare front. It also offers a tool with which to approach questions about the desirability of a particular financial investment opportunity, the benefits and costs of alternative choices and the likely impacts of public policies.

The complementary study of econometrics, the primary quantitative method used in the discipline, enables students to become critical consumers of statistically based arguments about numerous public and private issues rather than passive recipients. Such knowledge enables them to ask whether the evidence on the desirability of a particular policy, claims about the likely future path of the economy, or other issues are really compelling or whether it simply sounds good but falls apart upon closer inspection.

In this discipline students learn conceptual and empirical models of behavior to predict responses to changes in policy and market conditions and how statistical and mathematical analysis are used to investigate these changes.

B.A. (Hons.) History

Dr. Jaya Verma (Teacher-in-charge)

History has been and continues to be an extremely popular choice among students pursuing the Bachelors Degree. The discipline, at an academic level, satisfies our craving to fathom our past, the trajectories of the growth of human societies across the world and at the same time helps understand systematically the genesis and causes of many of our contemporary problems. History is a popular subject for competitive examinations given its seamless cohesion with many social science disciplines. Departures in historiographical work in the last half a century have shifted the focus of discourse from documenting the plethora of ruling dynasties and their historical contexts to a more complex paradigm of exploring the historical changes in social, economic and cultural domains. This has made historical enquiry an enriching exercise in analyzing historical questions through interdisciplinary enquiry and exploration. For example, Environmental history and Historical geography bring the disciplines of History and Geography together, analyses of Political systems and state structures in the past bring History and Political Science together and historical engagements with social issues like caste, gender, education and suchlike necessitates some knowledge of Sociology and social theory. History has also emerged as a foundation stone for more specialized professional courses related to Archaeology, Museology, Heritage and Conservation of Historical monuments and artifacts. Careers such as these are challenging but nonetheless provide ample opportunities to contribute to the society and help make this world a better place to live.
